Medialisering

“The iconography and liturgical practices of both institutionalised religions and folk religions become stockpiles for the media’s own production of factual and fictional stories about the world. In this way, the media distribute banal religious elements that may or may not be integrated into more coherent narratives with more explicit religious meanings.” (Hjarvard 2011, 128 )

“Not least because of mediatization and the market, these [New Age] phenomena are now «all over the place.» ” -> «religion spredd tynt utover» (Gilhus 2013, 47)

«religion in unexpected places» (Forbes 2017)

Frequently asked questions about Diwali

What is Diwali and why is it celebrated? ^

Observed over 5 days, Diwali is known as the Indian festival of lights and is celebrated by people of many faiths, including Hindu, Sikh, Muslim and Jains – in homes all over the world.

Why is Diwali the festival of lights? ^

For many, Diwali marks a legendary triumph of light over darkness, and for others it represents spiritual enlightenment. It's celebrated with candles, lanterns and even fireworks.

When is Diwali? ^

In 2022, the Festival of Diwali is observed on October 24. However, there are 5 days of celebrations, ranging from Saturday 22 October through Wednesday 26 October.

What are Diwali traditions? ^

Most traditions of Diwali bring families together to celebrate over a 5-day period – visiting, welcoming others into your home, playing games and sharing meals together. One common tradition is to decorate the entrance of a home with rangoli – festive and geometric designs made from colored rice powder and chalk – as you ready your home for guests.

Enjoying Religion

Pleasure and Fun in Established and New Religious Movements

EDITED BY FRANS JESPERS; KARIN VAN NIEUWKERK AND PAUL VAN DER VELDE - CONTRIBUTIONS BY JAMES S. BIELO; CAROLE M. CUSACK; FRANÇOIS GAUTHIER; INGILD SÆLID GILHUS; FRANS JESPERS; LISBETH MIKAELSSON; CATRIEN NOTERMANS; PAUL VAN DER VELDE; KARIN VAN NIEUWKERK AND JEAN-PIERRE WILS

“Enjoying religion” seems to be a contradiction because religion is generally perceived as a serious or even suppressive phenomenon. This volume is the first to study the increase of enjoying religion systematically by presenting eleven new case studies, occurring on four continents. The volume concludes that in our late modern secular societies the enjoyment of religion or of its loose elements is growing. In particular when scholars concentrate on “lived religion” of ordinary people, the cheerful experiences appear to prevail. Many people use pleasant (elements of) religion to add meaning to their lives, to find spiritual fulfillment or a way to salvation, and to experience belonging to a larger unity. At the same time, diverse cultural dynamics of late modern society such as popular culture, commercialization, re-enchantment, and feminization influence this trend of enjoying religion. In spite of secularization, playing with religion appears to be attractive.

A woman wearing a green hooded garment with a frayed edge is shown in a close-up shot. Her hands are clasped together in a prayer-like gesture, held near her face. The background is a blurred outdoor setting with a large, light-colored structure. The overall lighting is soft and natural.

We don't talk about Bruno. Encanto.

“The prophecy”

Vitruvius: One day, a talented lass or fellow,
a Special one with face of yellow,
will make the Piece of Resistance found from its hiding refuge underground,
and with a noble army at the helm,
this Master Builder will thwart the Kragle and save the realm,
and be the greatest, most interesting, most important person of all times.
All this is true because it rhymes.

Lord Business: That was a great legend. That you just made up! What a bunch of hippie, dippie baloney!
